G. H. S. Senior Class Play Is Opening Night Hit

Marked by an abundance of praiseworthy stagecraft, the Greenfield High School Senior Class play, "Strange Boarders," enjoyed a successful first night performance at the high school auditorium last night.

Farce comedy built on the story of a colorful bank robbing gang's visit to a zany boardinghouse near Boston, the play scored a steady chain of solid laughs in an audience of 500. A larger gathering of 700 or more will see the second staging tonight.

Gay Sinclair is the chief player in a story which begins slowly and develops into a quick-paced, laughable romp. In the role of a kindly, fluff-witted boardinghouse keeper, Miss Sinclair carries a long part lightly with airy charm in a laudable performance.

Other leading parts saw Bill Cokeley as Smiley, the derbled mobster, and Don Parda as Boston Benny, the gang boss complete with maroon pants, snap brim hat and long key chain.

They both garnered a good share of laughs as did Sheila Scott and Sandra Gustavson in their lively portrayals as a couple of bank robbing molls.

Competent comedy by Ronald McDonough and Denny Smith, as residents of the boardinghouse, and Stephen Long, as Deacon, another of the gang, added to the hilarity. Anton Mushovic, as Joey of the mob, contributed to the humor in a brief part which is brought to a sudden close by his demise in the first act.

Evelyn Conant delivered a thoroughly convincing acting job in the role of Mrs. Myrtle Hodge, the righteous welfare worker.

Completing the cast were Deneige Morrissey, Janet McNicholas, David Kelly, David Robert and Maureen Touher, all of them turning in steady performances.

Miss Marion L. Congdon rates encomium for her direction which saw the cast near perfect in its lines and in the complicated stage work which involved dozens of fast-moving entrances and exits.

Milo Galbraith, William Sears and Mrs. Jessie Brown were in charge of the crews which provided the play's well-equipped set. Chairmen of the other committees were Mrs. Carolyn Weissenborn, costume; Chester Osgood, make-up; Robert Casey, prompters, and Benjamin Sander, publicity.

The senior sextette, also directed by Miss Congdon, sang at the two intermissions, entertaining with "Whispering," "Charmaine," "When You Wore a Tulip," "White Christmas," and two unusual numbers, "Dumunary," and "Mother Goose Story." The sextette is composed of Katherine Moran, Mary Jane Moran, Patricia Smead, Theresa Sawicki, Carol Bomley and Pauline Togneri.

These fourteen girls under the direction of musical director, Charles Perry, have presented some very good entertainments both in assembly and at the Christmas Concert. They were chosen individually by Mr. Perry for their talent and capability to read music. The girls also gave an excellent performance at the annual music festival.

For the last two years we have been fortunate in having the Senior Sextette (formerly the Junior Sextette) with us. They have been a credit to GHS. They have participated not only at dances, the Christmas Concert, the talent show, and assembly programs, but also in other outside social events. They did a fine job at the Senior Play including Patty Smead who substituted for Gay Sinclair. These girls, who have made life at GHS more pleasant and enjoyable, will be missed by everyone. Congratulations to Miss Congdon and the girls on the fine job they've done.

In accordance with a very popular G.H.S. tradition, the Junior Class successfully sponsored the 1953 version of the football dance. One of the school year's highlights, the Thanksgiving evening affair was largely attended and for most of us climaxed a perfect day. The turkey had been eaten and, much more important, we had witnessed the mighty Green Wave massacre arch-rival Turners Falls. (Will we ever forget Bubba's five touchdowns?) Bill Malloy's orchestra played, entertainment was offered, and refreshments were available. The dance was certainly one to remember.

The Green Theatre Players had a most successful and enjoyable season. They held several meetings during the year and also presented two most successful assembly programs which included one-act plays and variety acts. We hope that these people will continue to uphold the tradition of dramatics and work toward a successful senior play.

Defending Valley League Champions

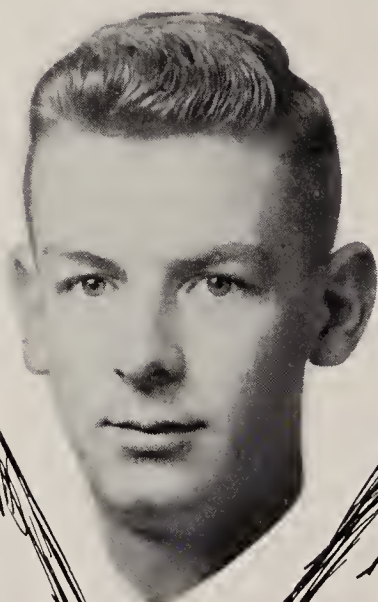

G.H.S.'s new track coach, Louis Clough, has a veteran team this year. We are hoping for another successful year. Back from the '53 campaign are Capt. Putt McCain, Ed Lapinski, Ted Wilcox, Bubba Hayes, Gerry Emerald, Andy Calisewski, Fred Sachse, Paul O'Connell, and John Clapp. All of these boys are experienced and know their business. Most of last year's point men are back.

Mr. Clough will be able to add to the boys' experience and knowledge. He hopes to have six official meets, including the New Hampshire State Champions, Keene. The first meet will be with Drury. A dual meet is planned with Westfield. Greenfield will defend The Valley League Crown as well as placing a strong bid for the Western Mass. title. Scrimmages are planned against U. M. Frosh and Deerfield Academy.

Class History

Place: Never-Ever Land
Time: Two thousand A. D.
Characters: Putter Pan and Gay-Bell

G. B.: "Putter Pan, Putter Pan! Putter Pan!! Honestly, Putter, sometimes I wonder just what would have happened to you if we hadn't decided to come here to Never-Ever Land. Judging from the way you always day dream and think about the old days, I often think you might have been just a plain loafer. Come on, boy, snap out of it."

P. P.: "Must I? Golly, but those were the days! High school was just one big ball. Gay-Bell, will you quit your nagging? Didn't we come here so that we could keep reliving by-gone days? We just couldn't give up the good times in high school. There were work and worry, but there were great accomplishments, too."

G. B.: "I guess for once I'll have to go along with you. I'm going to keep recalling the wonderful parties, the thrills at the games, and all the priceless things I learned—ahem, not just from books either. (Giggle) Oh, I'll never forget that first day long ago when I walked through the high school front door and started a new life. I was really scared, for everything seemed so different and new."

P. P.: "Yes, just like being transferred from Alcatraz to Leavenworth."

G. B.: "Oh, nonsense! You certainly changed your mind after spending three years there."

P. P.: "Now that you mention it, I really changed my mind as soon as I got 'hep' to the way 'Daddy' Watt wanted things done. 'Oh, Mein Pappa'!! Let's see, it was way back in nineteen fifty-one. Yes, that's right, because I can remember how surprised I was that our year turned out well under Petticoat Rule. Mary Jane Moran was certainly a fine female "Veep." You know the rumor that presidents are supposed to have their secretaries sit on their laps to take dictation? Well, I've always wondered if our cute Secretary 'Sandy' O'Neil ever sat on President 'Al' Hyman's lap."

G. B.: "Don't forget 'Nicky' McNicholas. Remember how little she was and the way she seemed to bounce everywhere she went? There was 'Al' Hyman, too. He really started his high school political life with a bang! I think his being president all three years was a big factor in making our class the extra-special one it was."

P. P.: "Speaking of being extra-special, what about the Sophomore dance we had? Wow!! If I recall correctly, everyone and his brother—or should I say sister—were there. 'Kay' Moran really outdid herself in the supervision of decorating. The gymnasium really looked 'tops'!"

G. B.: "If I remember correctly, there was success whenever Katherine helped. However, let's get back to the dance. Remember the way everyone in the class put his whole heart and soul into making it a success? To me this was just one evidence of the fine class and school spirit we had on the ball field and in the stands when members of our class helped the high school win the Western Massachusetts Football Title. There were members of our class on the basketball, baseball, and tennis teams when Greenfield won the title of Valley League Champions in all three sports."

P. P.: "Indeed! As Sophomores we were really successful in sports. During football 'Bill' Cokeley, 'Art' Gleason, 'Tom' Rice, and 'Bubba' Hayes were lettermen. Also, how about the 'Sophomore Scrubbeans,' who made their debut by scoring against Westfield? Oh, yes, and in basketball the 'J. V.'s,' who, by the way, were all from our class, didn't lose a game all season. Also, let's not forget 'Fred' Winseck's perfect shots. No wonder he played on the varsity squad his first year in high school. 'Fred' and 'Al' Hyman played with the varsity team in baseball. I'd say our class really outdid itself in sports during nineteen fifty-one and two."

G. B.: "Yes, Sir, our class rather outdid itself in about every field. Why, I can distinctly remember L. C. Cox saying, 'Yes, Gay, your class was outstanding not only in spirit but also in academic rating.' Boy! that's something when a teacher even commends a class. Oh, Putter, is it any wonder we came to Never-Ever Land? Why, I wouldn't have grown up and drifted away from those wonderful Senior High days for anything."

P. P.: "Remember Junior Year? That was wonderful! I guess I spent my best Thanksgiving that year. First, I helped the football team 'cream' those Turners Indians to the tune of twenty-seven, seven. That night I went to the big Victory Dance our class sponsored."

G. B.: "Oh, Putter, do you ever remember how many people we had at the dance and how beautiful the gymnasium looked?"

P. P.: "The entertainment is what I remember. Those six Juniors who sang under the misleading name of Sextette were quite something."

G. B.: "Just what do you mean by that, Mr. Pan? Remember, I was a part of the Sextette."

P. P.: "I ain't no 'Stooley'."

G. B.: "Okay for you, but didn't something else important happen in Junior Year? Oh, I remember! It was the Washington-New York trip. So many of our classmates went with Miss Rose, Miss Curtis, and Mr. Georgerian."

P. P.: "How could I forget? All I heard for two months from the travelers was what life was like in the big city." (Suddenly he springs up.)

G. B.: "For heaven's sake! What's the matter? Did you have a brainstorm or something else just as disastrous?"

P. P.: "Petticoat Rule—out the window—hurrah! I'd say we had some pretty fine officers in fifty-three. Let's see, there was 'Al' Hyman, President; 'Bill' Cokeley, Secretary; 'Flip' Smead, Treasurer, and (scratching his head) who was the other one?"

G. B.: "What an act, as if you didn't remember! Well, I'll have to admit you did do a rather splendid job as Vice President. Of course, you'll have to take into consideration that there was nothing to do."

P. P.: "All right, enough of that, Miss. To change the subject, do you remember how proud we all were when 'Al' Hyman was elected Vice President of all the Student Councils in Massachusetts?"

G. B.: "I should say I do remember! There couldn't have been a better choice. Oh, Putter, do you recall what we were saying about the Sextette singing at the Junior Dance? Well, you know, that started me a-thinkin'."

P. P.: "Oh, I thought I smelled something burning."

G. B.: "Now can't you be serious for once? What I'm thinking is that Miss Congdon started our Sextette, and so she must have come to G.H.S. for our Junior Year. I don't think I'll ever know anyone who could accomplish so much in so little time."

P. P.: "That's right. She really started the ball rolling in dramatics and music! (He dozes off dreamily) Let's see, there wasn't anything else in Junior Year, was there?"

G. B.: "Why, 'Dopey,' you forgot all about the sports in fifty-three."

P. P.: "Ho-hum, not too dumb! After 'Pretty-Boy Ed' Lapinski, Fred 'Blond Bombshell' Winseck, and 'Modest Ray' Tetreault, all helping the team to win the Valley League Title in basketball, I surely should have remembered."

G. B.: "I know I don't remember very much about sports, but wasn't that the year that Fred was chosen for the All-Western Massachusetts basketball team?"

P. P.: "Very fine; very fine! But there's something you've forgotten. Track was revived during our Junior year. If my memory serves me, 'Larry' Jubb, 'Dave' Mowry, and 'Paul' Bowe all did their part in helping the team win the Valley League Title. There is another little item. When spring football practice began, 'Bill' Cokeley, 'Beansey' Baldwin, and 'Art' Gleason came 'down to earth' again."

G. B.: "Weren't they chosen to be on the All-County Football Team? Well, I think we've talked enough about the sports end of things. Once you get started on that subject, nobody can stop you. How about the times we had during Junior year? Lola Ahearn and Mr. Hubbard had quite a feud!"

P. P.: "Ha ha, ho ho." (He laughs hysterically.)

G. B.: "What struck you, anyway?"

P. P.: "Oh-ho, ho! Remember 'Mo' Touher and the razzing she took after she broke her leg while she was starting out on the Mother's Day Drive? The funny thing was that 'Peg-Leg' wasn't even a mother."

G. B.: "I can still picture the shocked look that came over 'Butch' Day's face after he broke a window in Mr. Hubbard's room. 'Butch's' class must have been having quite a party."

P. P.: "We certainly had some great times in Sophomore and Junior years, but Senior year topped everything. To say the least, being a Senior was the most marvelous thing that ever happened to me. We were 'Wheels' at last!"

G. B.: "'Speak for yourself, John.' After all, we were just grown-up Sophomores."

P. P.: "Are you trying to tell me it was grown-up Sophomores who made our Senior Play such a success? We certainly had some hidden talent in 'Bashful Dave' Roberts and 'Blushing Dave' Kelly."

G. B.: "I'll never forget the lessons we had to give 'Lon' and 'Candy' in the back hall. I couldn't figure out whether 'Denny Cuddles' Morrissey wouldn't cooperate or whether David had a little trouble because he kept remembering a certain person named 'Spike'!"

P. P.: "Did you and 'Dave' Kelly act as teachers? The climax of the Saturday production surely made 'Cordelia' and 'John Todd' look like professionals."

G. B.: "That's enough of that kind of talk. I can remember how pleased the cast was after having so much fun, doing so much work during practices, and then having the play turn out swell. I imagine 'Flip' Smead, class treasurer, was very pleased because of the six hundred and one dollars and thirty-one cents profit."

P. P.: "Now, 'Kiddy,' let's get down to another important thing about the Senior Play—Britton's celebration afterward." (Sheepish grin)

G. B.: "Hold your horses, old boy, for I haven't finished!"

P. P.: "'Scuse me for breathing. I should have known better than to interrupt a woman."

G. B.: "All right, then, for heaven's sake, we can't forget Miss Congdon. Why, 'Strange Boarders' owes its success to the aid given by the G.H.S. Librarian."

Long Silence

P. P.: (Whispers softly) "Okay now?"—(Eagerly continuing) Now let's think about that party! Well, I guess. It was really 'tops'! There were no neighbors for miles around. Of course, we were quiet anyway. (Chuckles evilly.) Boy, I'd swear that whole house rocked with 'Heart of My Heart.' Everybody, and I do mean everybody, was singing. If you don't believe me, you should ask Mr. Britton."

G. B.: "Didn't you think it was nice the way everyone came to know each other?"

P. P.: "How? The way was what intrigued me. As I remember, you didn't do so badly yourself! What was the rumor about the 'lovely leading lady being all wrapped up in something?' It's a cinch it wasn't your dreams."

G. B.: "Now let's not get personal. What was it you were called? 'Casanova' McCain? Oh-ho, that was it."

P. P.: "What do you mean? I was just doing my duty. Fun? Indeed! How about 'Shirley Burly' Truchon? She seemed to grow up in the first half hour of the party."

G. B.: "As I recall, she got along famously with that handsome male from Dartmouth. Also, what about the couple in the corner that were 'obeying impulses' right and left?"

P. P.: "Which corner? Oh, and which couple? Remember Carol 'Bom Bom' Bomely? She proved to be quite a song leader."

G. B.: "I'll never forget 'Romeo' Baldwin. He certainly made the rounds more than once."

P. P.: "You know, I don't think we would remember this party half so well if the aftermaths hadn't been so great. Everyone seemed so much more friendly after the party."

G. B.: "Yes, Putter, I was thinking the same thing. All the Seniors were more unified after 'the night'."

P. P.: "Well, I guess that finishes our recollections of Senior Play and party. However, in another way neither of us can finish them. The reason is that these two events were too perfect to forget. (Change of mood takes place.) Hey, how about sports in Senior year? (Sarcastically) I don't suppose you remember that 'Bubba' Hayes was chosen for the Western Massachusetts Football Team, do you?"

G. B.: "'Dopey,' of course I do. In fact, there is something you plumb forgot. 'Artie' Gleason made a fast guard on that second team."

P. P.: "Atta girl. Guess I did slip on that. If I rightly remember, 'Mush' Mushovic, Barry Hale, and 'Buster' Davenport all did their share in helping to win the Valley League Football Trophy in fifty-four. Also, in basketball Fred Winseck, 'Ed' Lapinski,

'Ray' Tetreault, and 'Lenny' Blodgett did their part in helping the Greenfield High Basketball Team to play in the Semi-Finals at the Springfield Tournament. Our boys played superbly in their Senior year."

G. B.: "You know, we've been side-stepping the other side of sports?"

P. P.: "Pardon me, Madame. Just what is this other side of sports?"

G. B.: "The girls' sports, 'Nucklehead!' 'Nance' Dame nearly 'had a bird' when her Junior team won Intramurals in fifty-three. Something else I always recollect is the way 'Pris' Cobb used to slug the softball. Boy, never did I see such a girl ball-player."

P. P.: "I guess Mary Jane Moran 'took the cake' for an all-round athlete. (Twinkles his eye) She really knew her plays."

G. B.: "Putter, don't you think the Seniors were lucky to have such fine officers as 'Al' Hyman, Marcia Britton, David Kelly, and Phillip Smead in their last high school year?"

P. P.: "Another thing in which we were lucky was to have such spirited Co-Captain Cheerleaders. Sheila Scott and 'Nicky' McNicholas rounded out a rip-roaring cheering squad to goad our boys to victory."

G. B.: "Did 'Andy' Calisewski ever tell you of the honor the teachers bestowed on him and Pauline Togneri? These two were chosen from all the Commercial students to go to view the modern procedures and machines used in factories and offices in Springfield. I'd say they both should be pretty proud of their being selected."

P. P.: "I should say so. That 'Andy' didn't even tell me about his trip."

G. B.: "Putter, do you think we'll ever forget our final graduation exercises? Dr. Gilkey surely was the perfect man to speak at graduation. His speech gave everyone in the class something to think about after each had received his diploma and gone into his next step in life."

P. P.: "That's right, Gay-Bell. Also, our class banquet seemed to bring our whole class into a closer fellowship than we had had all through high school." (He utters a long, contented sigh.)

G. B.: "My goodness, you sound like 'Bossy, the Contented cow'!"

P. P.: "Maybe I am in a way. A cow is contented because she has plenty of green grass to eat; I'm happy because I have plenty of time here in Never-Ever Land to reminisce about our Green Years.

G. B.: "All right, Mr. Pan. Off to sleep you go. Now that you've started me thinking of high school again, I have some dreaming I'd like to do on my own."

P. P.: "So long." (Slumbers off peacefully to sleep.)

. . . And to those of you whom we unwittingly forgot or left out, we leave our humble apologies.

Thus, we conclude this, The Last Will and Testament of The Class of 1954.

1954 Class Prophecy

Z: Time: Many moons from now.

B: Place: Military Reservation 139654—Poet's Seat Rocket Launching Station.

Z: Characters: Captains B and Z.

B: Blast off—30 (pause)

Z: 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 (point)

B: Fire! (gyrations)

Z: Lt. Mastaler, check rear jets!

Z: Now everything is taken care of for a while. Whom do we have on the ship?

B: Oh! we are ever so fortunate to have with us that famous Washington party giver and socialite Miss Marcia Britton and her secretary, Gerry Brown.

Z: Look at this! We have the Greenfield Space Trotters basketball team with us: "Easy" Ed Lapinski, Ray "Cous" Tetreault, Fred "Sweetwater" Winseck, Bub "Hooper" Hayes, Lenny "Swish" Blodgett, and their managers "Buzz" Gass and Tommy Rice. They must be playing at Jones Gemmy Gymnasium this Friday.

B: Hum—Bill Wesolowski and "Putt" McCain are here. They are working on that atomic fuel project at Szulborski's and Schultz's Uranium Mine.

Z: Oh! Al Hyman must be going to the Lunas University to work for his Ph.D.

B: And booked in the seat next to him is that vivacious Esther Irwin. Captain Z! Captain Z! A call from the hostesses Shirl Wheeler and Polly Hallowell. One of the passengers, Nancy Nutting, has just acquired spaceophobia and medical personnel are needed immediately.

Z: My, it's lucky we have aboard with us Dr. George Allen and his nifty nurses Judy Quick, Beverly Potter and Franny Cowan. Let's turn the patient over to them.

B: How's about connecting up with the earth. Turn on our U.H.F. ultra distant space-o-vision.

Z: Not bad reception except for the space dust which floats on the screen.

B: When we get back to earth we ought to see if the Hale and Hale Space-o-vision Service can fix it. Maybe we can get a discount since they were old classmates of ours.

Z: What time is it?

B: 0017 hundred.

Z: Oh good! It's time for Towle's All Star Revue.

B: The only thing I don't like about that show are those darn commercials, especially the one that Smith runs. "Dine at Denny's where your dimes bring dreams."

Z: Ha! You think that's bad. What about this one? "Visit Blair's Better Saucer Body Shop. We will fix any damage in a hop."

B: 'Nuff sed.

B: I'm sure you're acquainted with them all.

B: They are good! Such precision! Such finesse!

Z: The master of ceremonies tonight is Mac McHugh. Gee, is he a ham!

B: Everyone to his own opinion!

Z: Who is the guest star?

B: They were supposed to have "Twinkle Toes" Fournier and Birute "Tap Toes" Dedinas, but they were delayed. They took a Mushovic Cab. Need I say more? Instead, they are having the Metropolitan Opera Star, Miss Juanita Harris.

Z: Say, where do you get all this information?

B: I'm just smart.

Z: You used to be conceited, but now you think you are perfect.

B: Man! That's a good jazz band. Isn't that Rennie "Pee Wee" Phelps leading the outfit?

Z: Yes, with Wayne "Pumper" North on the trombone, Balthus "Crazy Man" Keith on the sax, Frankie "Fingers" Luddington on the ivories and Dave Huxtable who gives lessons on "How to Make Love with The Guitar."

B: And their vocalist is Dolores Gagnon. She was voted S.V.'s "Miss Tonsils" last year.

Z: That contest sure was close. Barbara Jule came in second just a few points behind.

B: Miss Theresa Sawicki and Miss Josephine Czerwinski are going to play a duet on the piano.

Z: Man, dig that solid beat!!

B: Just when the show is getting good they have to have another blasted commercial and this one takes the cake.

Z: "Clifford's Cheer hits the spot. Two full barrels that's a lot?"

B: That darn space dust is interfering again. Better shut it off, Captain Z.

Z: Say, what is that coming into view out there, just beyond the meteorite?

Z: Signal Captain Reil to get close to the cup.

Z: Will you look at the headlines. "Red" Pratt and "Dave" O'Connor are running against each other for the mayorship of Bingville.

B: And on the prohibition ticket there are Larry Jubb, Beansie Baldwin, and Jimmy Dufraine running for dog catcher.

Z: Well, look at this picture.

Z: Umph! I was robbed.

B: That's your story.

Z: Gerry Emerald, Nicky McNicholas and John Lambert, the famous chemists have discovered a universal solvent that is a liquid that will dissolve anything, but they can't think of anything to hold it in.

B: Gerry's brother Paul is working on that problem, and I'm sure he will come up with something.

Z: Enough of the science section. Where is the sports page?

B: Right here, and will you feast your blinkers on this!

Z: Priscilla Cobb hits 63rd homerun for the Red Stockings. Not a bad record seeing that they have played only 4 weeks.

B: I wonder what it feels like to be the only woman in the major leagues.

Z: Probably the same way as the only woman captain of a space ship feels.

B: All right! Say, can you tell me who is fighting at Mowrey's Arena Saturday night?

Z: Let's see, where is the fight section? Oh, I've got it. In the preliminary tilt there is a paper-weight bout pitting "Bobo" Price against "Kid" Fiske. Their managers Ed Carlisle and Tony Yobst arranged the fight through promoter Mary Jane Moran.

B: Who is the referee?

Z: It says here, Dick Fisk.

B: Boy, that sounds like a put up job to me.

Z: And the bout for the world's Welterweight Championship, the noted pugilist Rocky Mayhew will slug out 20 rounds with Sandy Chapin.

B: Ted Wilcox, Paul Bowe and Dick Shumway are going to Singapore for this year's Olympics in the track events along with Dick Laurie, the tennis star, and Kate Moran, the swimming champ.

Z: We certainly ought to win.

B: We made a clean sweep in the winter sports. Jo Majewski won the women's figure skating. Bill Clark, Bob Petrin, Clyde Yobst, Carol Hunt, and Joyce Murley were all members of the winning hockey team, "Bergeron's Bloody Bruisers."

Z: Ken Cardwell, Dave Kelley and Art Gleason, members of the Holland Farms Nose Drivers ski club, ran off with honors in trick skiing events.

Z: I've got it. Here's Pat Stone's and Mo Touher's column on love problems. It seems that there is quite a group of movie stars that haven't got a man yet. Lola Ahern, Ellie Kallins, Mary Cenzano, and Sandi Gustavason still can't decide on which of their million men to pick.

B: It seems as though the male stars haven't got love problems, but between Hutch Parada, Dave Roberts, and Ronnie McDonough there is quite a bit of discussion as to who is going to take over Tarzan's place since Mel Lyons, the head prop man at Fotopulos' Film Studio, forgot to tie a vine.

Z: My, Steve Long, the old Tarzan, certainly was a bloody mess.

B: Gay Sinclair has given up her party giving for a while because she and Carolyn Hume are going to do missionary work in East Afghanistan with Bob Lovett.

Z: Irene Barton, Mary Anne Wood, Sonia Gordon, were married last weekend and are now on their way to the fabulous 3D Resort, Bermuda, run by Butch Day, Nancy Dame and Jennie Domitrz.

B: Ann August, Jean Bush, and Sheila Scott, the noted dress designers, have a shop on Hill's Hill.

Z: Attention Control Room engineers! Collier and Webb reverse engines and prepare to stop immediately.

B: These blasted stop signs seem to come out of space.

Z: I wish those flying saucers would get a move on. We have to get to the moon in a flash. We are behind schedule now.

B: Are you getting hungry? I'm starved.

Z: Me too. I wonder what Chef Pauline Yobst is cooking up for us? I wouldn't mind a dish of Sestilis' Sauerkraut.

B: Sauerkraut! I wouldn't take that on a flight! Give me a dish of crackers soaked in some of the Smead Twins' Creamy Milk.

Z: That isn't for me! I'll take the milk though, but I would like to have some of Trouchon's and LaBelle's French pastries and Woodward's Wormy Wonder Doughnuts topped off with a side dish of O'Neil's and O'Sullivan's Oily Pizza.

B: Quiet—I'm getting sick.

Z: Funny thing I'm not hungry anymore. Just talking about it filled me up.

B: Just to keep you alive you better take one of these Harris Health Pills.

Z: Do you want me to lose weight or something? If you did, I could go to Hall, Hale and Duke's reducing emporium.

B: Don't be sarcastic.

Z: By the way, did you hear there is a new administration building on Finn's Field, our landing site?

B: I heard they were planning to, but I didn't think inspectors Don Apple, Bill Bogue and Mike Chiapputi would accept Andy Calisewski's plans.

Z: They almost didn't. In the first plans Andy planned to use Barnes' Bricks throughout the construction, but it was found out they would not be strong enough to hold up a one-footed flea. He compromised and used Sachse's Steel.

B: Who got the contract? Was it the Pevere, Peters, and Pielock Construction Company?

B: I hope they put a rest room in for tired pilots like us.

Z: We will have quite a bit of free time left when we land. What about taking in a show?

B: That's a good idea. There is a good show at the MacLaughlin and McLaughlin Cinema in 5D. And while we're there, I can see Jean Hurley. I think she's the chanteuse there.

Z: After the show maybe I can take you out to dinner at Sessler's Snack Bar. That tightwad boss of mine, Clayton Davenport, finally came through with a ten wan raise.

B: That's a good idea. I've always enjoyed being waited on by my old classmates Shirley Rhodes, Pat Greenlaw, Maggie Scryba, and Joyce Rehaume. They certainly were a great bunch.

Z: I understand that Reginald Boivin is head chef. I like the specialty of the house, Blood's three inch steaks.

B: O.K., we'll talk about it later.

Z: We will be landing soon, so you had better tell Bill Sears, Ed Ellsworth, and Joe Kaminski to check the landing gear.

B: Radio "Loverboy" Shumway at the landing field to see if Farris' and Fellows' Space-ship has taken off yet.

Z: I hope they are off now. It would be rather messy if we hit them going 1000 miles an hour.

B: But you needn't worry Captain Z! When accidents occur there is always a very efficient clean up crew to take care of everything. Ed Rau drives the ambulance with Kathy Kelly as the nurse in charge.

B: Let's get off this morbid subject. We are getting too pessimistic.

Z: We will never miss the landing field with that neon sign advertising Conway and Cushing's Clamy Treats from the briney deep.

B: The Scotch plaid sign was invented by the efforts of Dick Walsh, Marvin Holloway, and Roberta Greene. They were feeling good one day and threw all their electric fixing and colored lights into a big mixing bowl, and this is what they came out with.

Z: Maggie Kemp and Dave Kelley were rather mad because they put up such a large sign. Steve Matosky, their lawyer, tried to prevent it from going up. They said that their cigar factory was completely out of view.

B: I don't know if you heard or not, but this is going to be my last flight. They are promoting me to Vice President in charge of Paper Clips.

Z: I envy you, nothing to do all day but count paper clips.

B: Oh! I won't do that. They are getting me three secretaries. I have seven to pick from, but I just don't know whom to choose.

Z: Whom are you picking from?

B: Well, Beldon and Conant Agency sent me a list. It offered me Bob Gebo or Bob Leonard, supervisors, and for secretaries Jo Gray, Ellie Greene, Dot Mayers, Gail Simonds, Rosie Slahetka and Maryanne Smith to pick from. I just don't know. I guess I'll have to flip a coin.

Z: Have you thought of Bev Springer, Pauline Togneri, Shirl Walsh, or Kitty Bullette, our old friends? They are out of jobs since Rohnert and Campbell Manufacturing Plant went bankrupt.

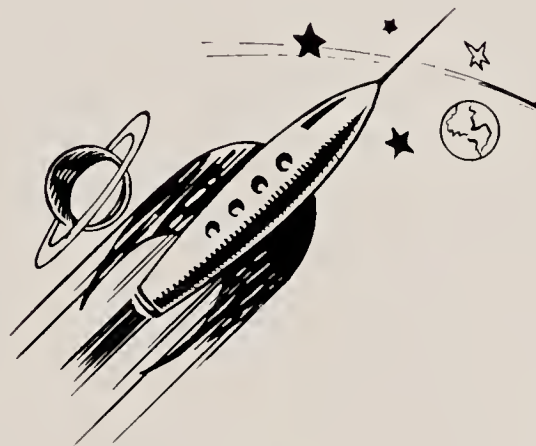

B: We had better pay attention to our ship because I can see the "Man in the Moon" beckoning us to land.

Z: Yes, we've come to the end of the road.

Z: Fasten safety belts!

B: Proceed!

PERMANENT INVESTMENTS

We congratulate you upon the completion of your High School course. Your diploma is the symbol of a wise investment in permanent values — values that will be a sound foundation for continued growth, wherever you go, whatever you do.

Sometime in the future you will have a need for tools — for your job, or your hobby or home repairs. When this time comes, look for the Millers Falls trademark — the symbol of permanency on tools. Since 1868 we have constantly searched for better materials, designs, and finishes to give lifetime utility to the tools we manufacture. Given reasonable care these tools will "season" in use, taking on a character all your own and will be lifetime friends known and proven by the work they perform.

NOW HE KNOWS IT'S RIGHT. "He" could be a final or process inspector, a foreman or a tapping machine operator—anyone at a key point on the production line.

But, he could also know when all is not well. This gage could warn of a dull tap, a drill going wrong, misalignment in a set up. All these and other faults can be detected by proper gaging. Know that it's right. Prevent waste. Use good gages!
